

The Saline County Journal.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1877.

New To-Day.

New Goods—Sargents & Bates.
Booths to Let—H. S. Cunningham.
Notice to Stockholders—Bond.
New Advertisements—Geo. P. Rowell & Co.

LOCALS.
H. Hall.
T. L. Bond.
M. M. Briggs.
G. A. Solberg.
W. P. Thacher.
New York Store.
G. J. Lay & Bro.
E. J. McCormick.
J. C. Rash & Son.
Mrs. A. T. Grier.
Ober, Wilson & Co.
Whitehead & Seaman.
D. A. J. B. Whitehead.
Whitehead & Seaman.
Campbell, Sloan & Tutill.
Markland, Dodge & Moore.

Oysters at Lay's.

"Agulish" weather.

Some cold weather of late.

Bring your wife to the Fair.

Bring your stock to the Fair.

Bring your wheat to the Fair.

Bring your best corn to the Fair.

Bring your best fruit to the Fair.

Bring your best oysters to the Fair.

Bring your best wheat to the Fair.

Bring your whole family to the Fair.

Oysters, oysters, at W. P. Thacher's.

Come to the Fair and enjoy yourselves.

Mrs. W. B. Scholl returns this evening.

All kinds of gloves at J. C. Rash & Son's.

Oysters, "fat blue points" at the Delmonico.

The foliage begins to be tinged with brown.

Episcopal church—ladies—Saturday—oysters.

Flannels of all kinds cheap, at the New York Store.

Kedzie's Geology, at Whitehead & Seaman's.

Sausage and buckwheat cakes on up in the future.

Mr. B. A. Litwisch returned last Friday evening.

We have already had some real autumnal weather.

Miss Esden, of Manhattan, is visiting friends in this city.

The Autumnal Equinox occurs tomorrow (the 21st).

Mrs. C. A. Kingman has gone upon a visit to Illinois.

Buy flannels and cotton flannels of J. C. Rash & Son.

The brick work of the city building is about completed.

Candidates for county offices begin to skirmish around.

Mr. W. R. Reis returned from the east last Thursday evening.

Choice fresh oysters—the best in the market—at Lay & Bros.

The boiler of the Corlis for the new mill arrives this week.

A new lot of queensware just received, at J. C. Rash & Son's.

Miss Lou VanZant returned from Illinois last Saturday evening.

A fall holiday will do you good. Take one and come to the Fair.

Wall Paper cheaper than ever, at Whitehead & Seaman's.

Broom corn is beginning to move. No increase in prices yet.

Mrs. Hodgkin has just received Patterns for the latest fall styles.

New goods of all kinds are coming in for the New York Store.

Wagons loaded with wheat and broom corn begin to pour into Salina.

Choice Baltimore oysters received by the fast train, at Lay & Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bates returned from the East last Friday evening.

Take your folks to Lay's and indulge in some of those fine oysters.

Markland, Dodge & Moore are receiving a mammoth stock of goods.

Fifty ladies' Beaver Cloaks, just received at Markland, Dodge & Moore's.

The boys are searching for a good fall and winter stock of overcoats.

Selected oysters—selected especially for the Salina market—at Lay & Bros.

Go and see G. A. Solberg's new stock of furnishing goods just received.

Mr. John Anderson, county clerk, is attending the Kansas City Exposition.

WANTED—A sexton for the Presbyterian church. Apply to M. M. Briggs.

Dr. Bell has sold his Fifth street residence, and is building on Santa Fe avenue.

The Domestic Sewing Machine is the best. Buy one of Markland, Dodge & Moore.

Rev. W. B. Maxey will fill the pulpit at the M. E. Church, next Sabbath morning.

WANTED—A girl to do general housework. Inquire at the residence of T. L. Bond.

Oysters begin to be in demand. The restaurants are serving them up in good style.

Mr. E. P. Hanna, of the Interior Department at Washington, is visiting his relatives here.

Mr. W. Keeler and workmen are busy with the stone basement work of the Opera House.

The Kansas Pacific company have put up a large new windmill at their water tank near the depot.

Scale Books, Letter books, Exercise Books, and every thing in our line, at Whitehead & Seaman's.

Mrs. M. Schwartz, of Pittsburg, Penn., mother of A. J. and J. N. Schwartz, arrived last week.

We have lately received several series of new and latest styles of type. Our job printing is unexcelled.

Mr. H. C. Angell, of Lincoln Center, was down the first of this week, and called at the Journal office.

For your books, stationery, etc., etc. It will pay you to call on A. T. Grier, No. 124, Santa Fe Avenue.

Sargents & Bates will give some great bargains in goods of all kinds next week. Look out for the prices.

Mr. Charles Ruth, of Johnstown, Penn., brother-in-law of Mr. George Kaeger, arrived last week.

Editors from abroad visiting the Oak Dale Fair will receive complimentary attention by reporting to the officers.

Dan Whitehead returns on Saturday.

Bring your best vegetables to the Fair.

John Flagg and C. C. Fleck are each building residences in the south eastern part of the city.

Rev. Dr. Bishop started for Independence this morning. He will be absent about two weeks.

Mr. J. L. Hayward, of the firm of Kingman, Anderson & Co., started for Illinois last Saturday morning.

Col. Phillips wrote to one of his friends here the other day that he would be home in two or three days.

The days are rapidly shortening, and on the 23d of the month there will be equal length of day and night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Perry, of Manhattan, are visiting their daughters, Mrs. F. C. Jackson and Miss Perry, in this city.

When a man shuts up his store for the purpose of hunting up Tom Collins, he must want to see Tom pretty bad.

A few Organs for sale cheap, at Hall's Music Store. Organs, list price $150, for $100. Organs, price list $200, for $125.

Boots and shoes, the nicest in the world, and to be sold cheaper than second quality of goods at the New York Store.

Let the good work of sidewalk building be pushed on. Nothing so nice and popular as a town with plenty of sidewalks.

New dress goods, the knobbyest and the latest styles, just received at the New York Store, direct from New York.

We understand that R. K. Jeffries is one of the parties to a foot race which is to come off in Chillicothe, Mo., one day this week.

Ribbons, ribbons, come and see our new stock of ribbons and see how wonderfully cheap they are. LITWICH & WITTMANN.

One week from to-day the Salina Athletic Club gives an exhibition at their Club Rooms. They are now practicing for the exhibition.

Our stock of School Books and school supplies is complete. Come and see us. WHITEHEAD & SEAMAN.

The Ottawa county fair opens next Wednesday and lasts until Friday. The premium list pamphlet was the work of the Sentinel office.

We invite every body to call and examine our immense stock. No trouble to show goods. LITWICH & WITTMANN.

Gus Behr has built a brick kitchen in the rear of his saloon building, and proposes to furnish oysters, etc. to those who want them.

We will sell you everything in our line cheaper than any one else.

LITWICH & WITTMANN.

Next Wednesday evening the Athletic Club gives a grand party at their Club Rooms on Iron Avenue. It promises to be a gay party.

On Monday and Tuesday nights, Jack Frost was expected, but luckily he did not arrive. Some of the tomato vines were frozen, however.

Mr. Frank Goodnow was very suddenly summoned East the first of the week by the dangerous illness of his brother, at Norwalk, Ohio.

A very well written and interesting letter from Mr. F. G. Adams, secretary of the State Historical Society, is published in another column.

Preaching at the English Lutheran church every Sabbath morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Hartsack at the usual hours of service.

Now I tell you when you come to the Fair next week you will be sorry if you do not go and see the new goods at Campbell, Sloan & Tutill's.

Mr. F. C. Jackson informs us that he has official intelligence that Goldsmith Maid will tour again on Saturday afternoon, at the Kansas City Fair.

We understand that Mr. F. Barneck has purchased the old Eagle drug store building—at present occupied by Fassett & Bowen and C. E. Libbey.

Last Friday afternoon a party of ten young ladies and gentlemen of our city made quite a fine appearance on our streets, indulging in equestrian exercises.

Some twenty-five persons from Minneapolis and other points in the Solomon valley took the train at Salina, Tuesday morning, bound for the Kansas City Fair.

The colored colonists who were lodged at the emigrant building last week, started west on Monday night's train, bound for Graham county—their future home.

Miss R. L. Phillips returned last Saturday evening. Her brother and sister, on their way to New Mexico, accompanied her and stopped in Salina until Tuesday evening.

Cash being paid upon City warrants. City finances in splendid condition, and the croakers and sore heads and fault-finders are mad because they have nothing to criticize.

Mr. W. S. Wells, treasurer of the school board of this district, informs us that Prot. Fitzpatrick has been employed as principal of our public school for the ensuing year.

Every body come to our store and we will be pleased to show you our goods and post you in prices.

LITWICH & WITTMANN.

Mr. Jas. Masker, of Cincinnati, Ohio, succeeds Mr. A. Perrin in the K. P. Land Department. He seems to be a very fine young gentleman and will, no doubt, fill the position well.

A very good temporary dam, of stone, has been constructed, and the lower mill is again run by water power. The mill company will soon commence work upon the permanent dam.

E. J. McCormick, the merchant tailor, makes a specialty of dress and wedding suits. Finest imported broadcloth on hand. Rooms over Markland, Dodge & Moore's store, Salina, Kansas.

Mr. F. E. Bassett and family start for Pilot Mound, Iowa, next week, near which place they will make their residence for the present. The best wishes of many friends will accompany them.

Day and night the clerks, proprietors and all at Ober, Wilson & Co.'s work away, unpacking and arranging goods. But they manage to find a little time to wait on their hundreds of customers.

Mr. Dr. J. K. Lull wishes to thank Drs. Jenney, Crowley and Bell, also the many friends, for their acts of kindness and deep sympathy for her and the Doctor during his last sickness.

WANTED—The first volume of the "The First Year of the War," by Pollard, of Richmond, belonging to R. H. Bishop. The person in possession of the same will please return it to this office.

Last week an attempt was made by the Oak Dale Park Fair Association to have the owner of Goldsmith Maid exhibit her at our county fair. The President, Oscar Seitz, telegraphed to Budd Doble, the owner of the Maid, who was then at St. Joseph, Mo., and the latter answered that his engagements were such that he would be unable to come.

Herald it Abroad.

And let it be known far and wide—north, south, east and west—that the great Oak Dale Park Fair will open next week, in Oak Dale Park, Salina, Kansas, with a grand flourish of trumpets; and let it be known as a matter of equal importance that Campbell, Sloan & Tutill, the greatest distributors of dry goods, &c., &c., in the Smoky Hill Valley, are now, as always, to the front with the largest and best assorted stock of new fall and winter goods, to be found in Western Kansas.

Attention Everybody.

New goods, new styles, and new prices. We have received an immense stock of general merchandise, and we extend a general invitation to every body to call and see our goods, and if we cannot please you in style and prices, will not charge anything for showing the goods. MARKLAND, DODGE & MOORE.

Eggs are getting scarce. Hens are taking their summer vacation. But the new goods are just rolling in at Ober, Wilson & Co.'s like a huge tidal wave. The world of new goods is a wonder to look at.

Quail shooting will be lawful on and after Oct. 1st, but the sportsmen do not seem inclined to take any advantage of the privilege given them. They believe in protecting quails, which are really very scarce.

Mr. James Chase visits both the Kansas City and St. Louis fairs. He has the agency for Miller's patent calf-belt and cow muzzler, for the state of Missouri. He will not return to Salina before the first of November.

Remember the entertainment to be given by the ladies of the Episcopal church at the Athletic Hall next week Saturday morning, afternoon and evening. Everybody will be there. A splendid place to visit. Let us all go.

Campbell, Sloan & Tutill's upper story looks like a large wholesale clothing establishment since they put their clothing there. We advise you to look at their clothing before you buy, for they have what you want.

Clothing, clothing. We will defy the world in prices and quality, we are bound to sell them to you cheaper than you can buy them elsewhere.

LITWICH & WITTMANN.

H. C. Stanley is moving the building occupied by Mrs. A. T. Grier's news depot and mill neryshop to No. 24, Santa Fe, just north of her residence. Dr. Morris will build his bank building on the premises thus vacated.

Even the laziest boy can catch a tickling; but the clerks at Ober, Wilson & Co.'s do not find time to eat their meals, so busy are they unpacking and arranging that mammoth stock of new goods of every description and variety.

"Bill" Thompson, charged with the murder of Sheriff Whitney of Ellsworth, several years ago, was acquitted last Friday—the trial having occupied several days in Ellsworth court. (Capt. Mohler was one of the attorneys for Thompson.)

We have received from the Kansas Publishing House "Felter's Elements of Book-Keeping." The binding and printing of the book is of the usual excellent style of our Kansas publishing house. It is also a work of considerable merit.

Mrs. Grier has received a splendid stock of new goods, and we would advise all to go and examine them. You will surely be not only satisfied but delighted with what you see, and will not fail to take advantage of the low prices she will offer you.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thacher started for Kansas City, Monday morning. They will take in the Fair and then make a visit in Qigo and New York. Mr. C. H. Martin will be in charge of the restaurant during Mr. and Mrs. Thacher's absence.

A fly never feels its importance so much as it does when it glides into a fellows mouth, smothered in molasses. And people will never feel easy until they have inspected that avalanche of new goods just arrived at Ober, Wilson & Co.'s, and bought therefrom.

Capt. Mohler yesterday showed us a telegram sent by Mr. Hammett, Clerk of the Supreme court, announcing that the Barney Bohan case has been affirmed. Thus at last this important case is settled, and Barney Bohan is a resident for life at the State Penitentiary.

The "agricultural editor" of the "patent editors" down street has fallen asleep. Some soporific must have been administered to him. His ravings have ceased. He is no longer frothy at the mouth. Let him slumber on, for should he wake, his gibberish will be renewed.

We learn from Mr. Woolley that the parties who have contracted to construct the bridge near Lindsay, recently wrote to Mr. Swenson, of that place, that the iron work for the bridge would arrive in Salina about the first of October, and that the bridge would be completed by November 1st.

We are in the midst of the season of fall wheat sowing. Farmers have found that the "early bird catches the worm," that fall wheat to do well should be sown prior to the 10th of September. Consequently the "sower has gone forth to sow," and nearly all of the seed will be put in by the last of next week.

We thought last week, when we saw the large amount of goods Campbell, Sloan & Tutill received, they would not need any more for six months; but to our surprise they have been receiving goods every day this week. When we think how fast they are selling, we do not wonder they get new goods every day.

On Saturday, September 29th, the last day of the week, the ladies of the Episcopal church will give an oyster and coffee lunch at the Athletic Club Room, on Iron Avenue, between the hours of 11 o'clock A. M. and 2 P. M.; also in the evening after 7 o'clock. Oysters will be served in every style. The proceeds will be devoted to repairing the Episcopal church in Salina.

The Republican Central committee of Saline county is composed as follows: Smoky Hill township, M. D. Sampson; Gypsum Creek, H. R. Stagg; Pleasant Valley, A. Robbins; Elm Creek, J. W. Blundon; Solomon, Henry Miller; Ohio, S. M. Hamilton; Walnut, John Wilson; Smoky View, Robert Crawford; Solomon, H. Shier; Fulton, E. Benson; Kureka, J. Weaver; Washington, C. Forster; Liberty, D. J. Crossan; Spring Creek, R. R. Tins. A meeting of the committee is called for next Wednesday, the 29th inst.

Willis Kessler and D. R. Wagstaff, were "entered" for the shooting match at the Kansas City fair. The Kansas City Journal shows that in the score of five single rifles, Wagstaff stood 4 and Kessler 5, was the highest. Four persons tied on 5, and in "shooting off" a person by the name of Emerson was winner. In the score of ten single rifles, it is shown that Kessler stood 10 and Wagstaff 8. Thirty persons shot in this class. There were seven persons who stood 10, and in shooting off Kessler won the first premium, which was a silver medal and $100.00. Good enough for Willis and Salina!

The celebrated Steak oysters, stewed, fried, or by the can, at W. P. Thacher's.

The following Salina people are attending the Kansas City exposition: Mrs. and Mrs. H. F. Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Clarkson, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kessler, D. R. Wagstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Well, C. T. Hilton, R. J. Jeffries, J. E. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wittmann, N. Schwartz, James Chase, G. E. Hutton, A. T. Sanden, David Palmer, T. H. Derrington, Gus Behr, Henry McDaniels, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Lay.

The Land Department of the K. P. Railway are putting up samples of grain, raised in Central Kansas during the season of 1877, for the purpose of sending them to eastern State fairs, and also for exhibitions in Europe. Already they have shipped samples to Scotland and Germany. The showing is very creditable indeed, and no doubt our country will be greatly benefited thereby. The samples—28 in number—were collected under the direction of Mr. S. J. Gilmore, the Land Commissioner, and Judge O. P. Hamilton.

The cornet band of Augustana, (Ill.) College, the advent of which we have previously noticed, will be in Salina next Sunday. The band will furnish sacred music at the divine services to take place at the Swedish Lutheran church at 3 o'clock P. M., and at the Presbyterian church in the evening. Sermons will be preached at both houses of worship by gentlemen belonging to the band. The sermon at the Swedish Lutheran church will be delivered in the Swedish language and at the Presbyterian church in English. Of course no advertisement for the band will be made, but a collection will be taken at both places, to be applied to the payment of the traveling expenses of the band.

In company with Prof. F. M. Hamilton we made a trip up the Saline river valley last Monday. That it was a flying trip, the horses we drove can well attest. For some reason the Saline Valley is not improving as fast as this vicinity, still there has been a marked improvement during the last year. Notwithstanding there is a goodly number of thirty farmers up that way, there yet remain too many who have not improved their circumstances during the last dozen years. The soil of the Saline valley seems as rich as that of the others, and farming ought to pay there as well as elsewhere. A few years ago the annual raids of the Indians may have retarded the progress in that direction, but security of life and property is as well assured now in the Saline as in the Smoky valley. We were refreshed with an excellent dinner at the house of Mr. Hancock, a Massachusetts man. After dinner we made a visit to what is called in this region "Table Rock," "Mushroom Rock," etc. In shape it does resemble a mushroom. If you are inclined to stretch your imagination you can see it resembles a table. Perhaps granite could not tell that. We were not a geologist, hence we shall not describe it from a scientist's standpoint. It is formed of the soft sand stone so plentiful in this country. The structure may be twenty feet high. Two very respectable columns, which look symmetrical at a distance, support a great weight of rock, rounded off something like the upper portion of a mushroom. Weeds grow upon the apex. No doubt the winds having "harvested" the weeds of the surrounding prairie, left the seed to germinate on that rocky edifice. The structure, like other curious rock formation in this country, looks all the world like the remnant of some temple of antiquity. It would be in fact a very dignified ruin among the highest-toned ruins in the world. There is a similar structure not far from Ellsworth, also one on the Solomon river. How were they formed? Who knows for a certainty? Possibly rushing currents of water carved the solid rock into the different shapes we see upon the hills and prairies. It is well worth ones' while to take a look at these different curious formations.

Death of Dr. J. K. Lull, Jr.

We are pained to chronicle the death of Dr. J. K. Lull, Jr., who died of heart disease last Friday morning, at the age of 47 years and 5 days. It was supposed the day before there was a chance of his getting much better, and possibly be temporarily relieved from his infirmities. But he commenced sinking Thursday evening and passed quietly away at twenty minutes before 6 the next morning. The funeral services took place at the Episcopal church on Saturday, at 10 o'clock A. M. Rev. F. B. Dooley preached the funeral sermon. A large concourse of people assembled to pay their last respects to the deceased, and to follow the remains to the cemetery. We subjoin following truthful obituary, written by Judge Hamilton, one of Dr. Lull's oldest and most intimate friends:

Dr. J. K. Lull, Jr., was born in Morris, Oregon county, N. Y., where he received a common school education. At an early age was associated with his father in the drug business in his native town. He also became a student under his father, with a view of engaging in the practice of medicine. Thus at an early age, with diligence and perseverance he laid the foundation for his eminence as a physician and surgeon in after life. After a year of study and practice with his father, he became associated with the celebrated Dr. Lockport, N. Y., where he was successfully engaged for several years. While there he succeeded in establishing the reputation of being one of the most active and energetic druggists in the city. From this place he removed to Erie, Pa., at which place he married and engaged in the drug business until the breaking out of the war of the rebellion. While in Erie he held one of the most responsible positions in the house of that night druggist and gave entire satisfaction to those with whom he was associated.

At his country's call for men to fight for its existence he promptly responded by offering his services as a volunteer and became a volunteer in the 68th Massachusetts regiment. He was stationed upon the coast of the United States, and was actively engaged in the service of the U. S. navy until near the close of the war. His last duty was as a volunteer in the 68th Massachusetts regiment, and he was honorably discharged and returned home with him many compliments of his fellow officers and superiors for his many excellent qualities as a gentleman and soldier. In the early part of the summer of 1865 he came west with a view of engaging in the practice of medicine, and in connection with a younger brother, opening a general mercantile and produce business. I well remember with what zeal and enterprise he labored, and he was so successful in his business and activity in a short time to an extensive trade and business, and soon became one of the leading firms of trade on the great river function in the Fort Riley on the east and a number of military posts on the river to the west. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He was a man of great energy and was never turned away when it was in his power to afford relief. In any public or benevolent enterprise he was ever ready to offer a helping hand. He was a member of the early days has cause to remember his aid and his aid in the early days of the city. He